FOREWORD

"America answers not with the voice of any one man but with the voice of one hundred and fifty millions . . .
Ours is a unity which is possible only among free men and women
Who recognize the truth and face reality with intelligence and courage."

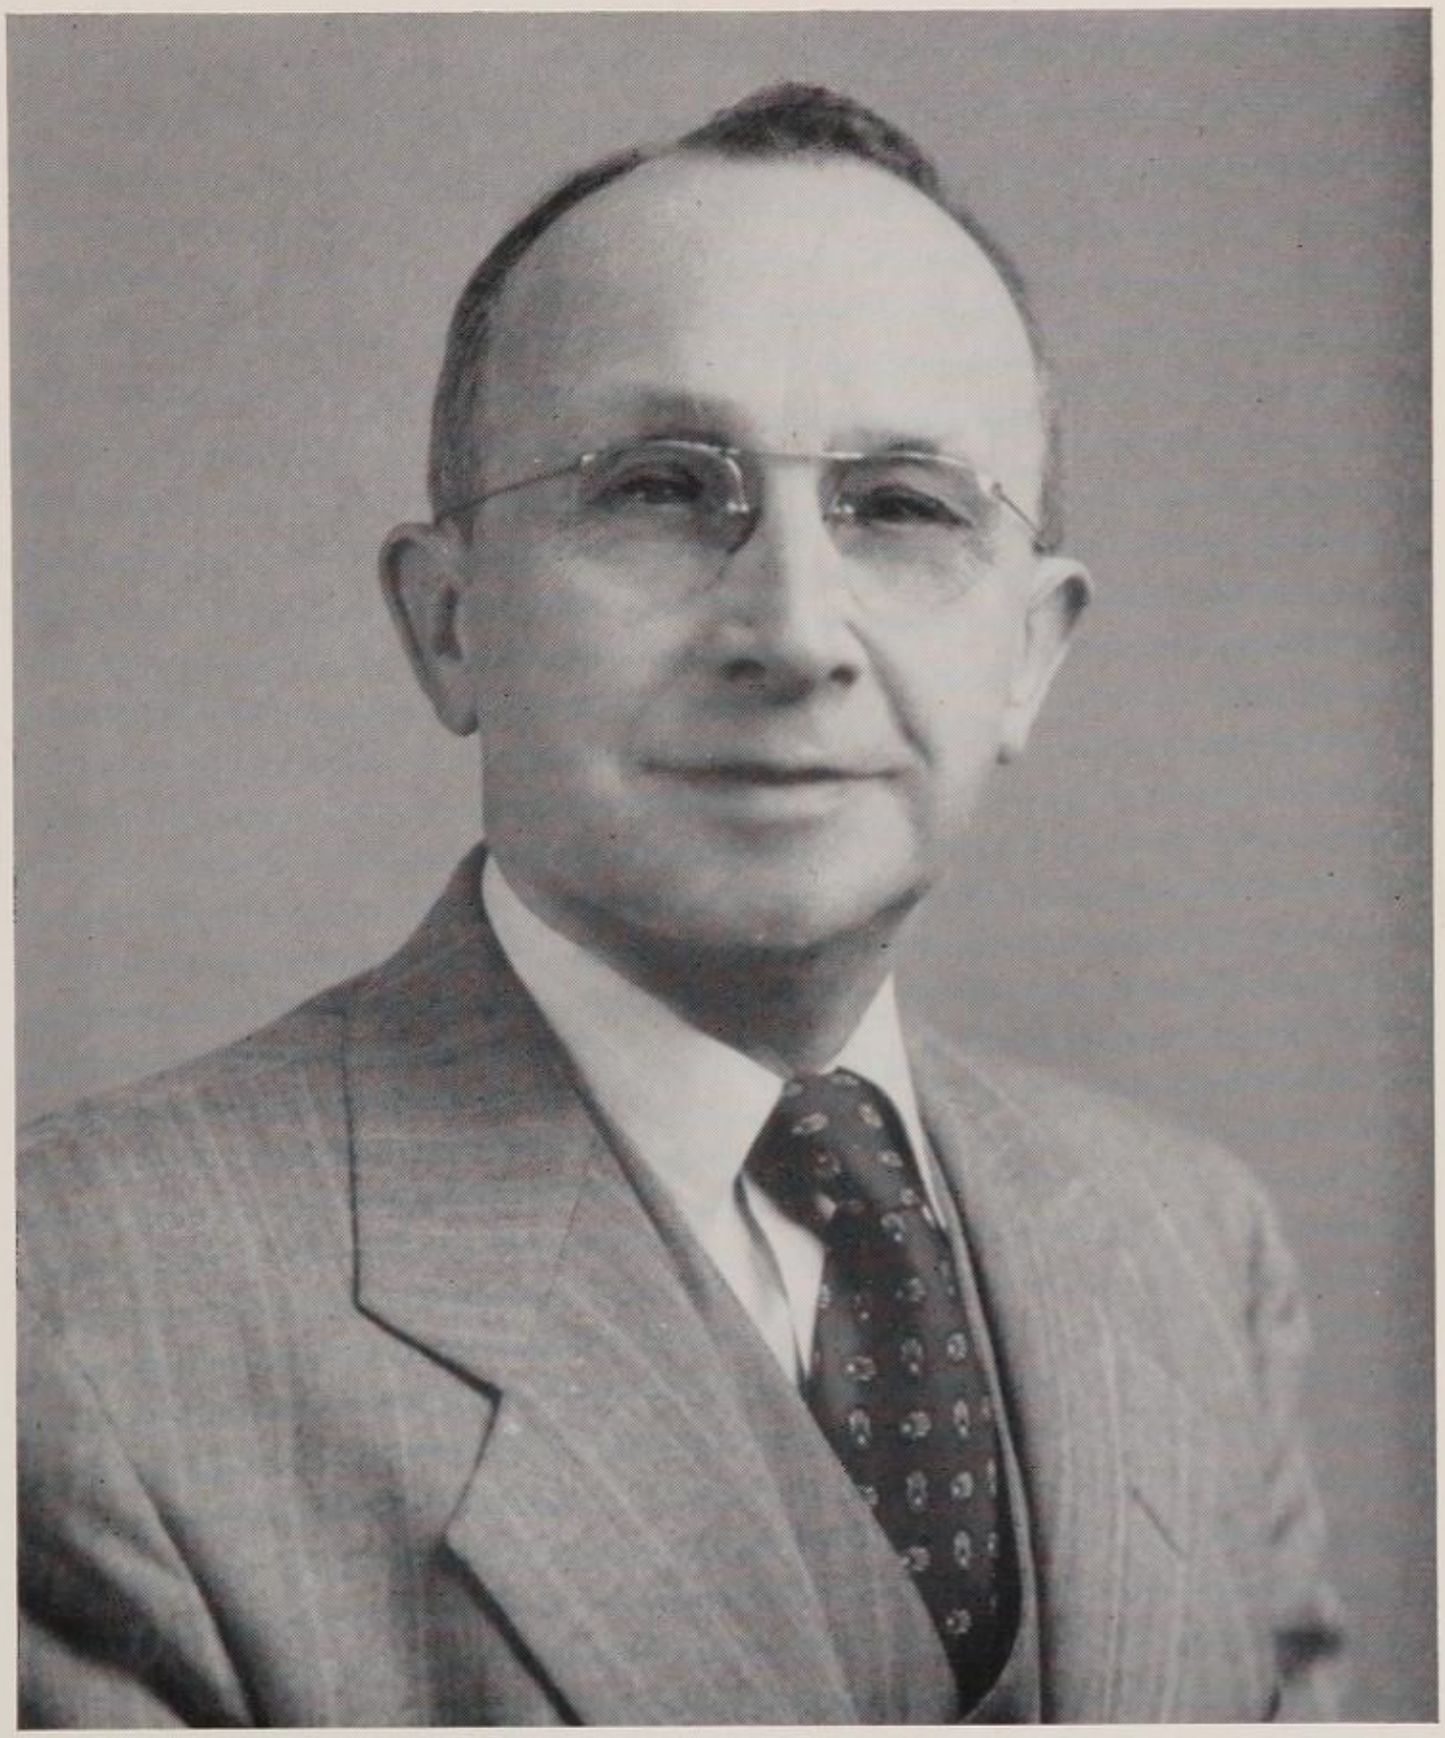
—F. D. Roosevelt

Archie M. Cushing

We, the Class of June, 1952, dedicate this book to



MR. ARCHIE M. CUSHING

In and out of the classroom, he has demonstrated to us the true meaning of good fellowship, and his sparkling wit and friendliness have won him a place in the heart of the faculty and students alike.

Best of Good Wishes!
Walter J. Degnan

TO THE CLASS OF JUNE 52

Commencement rightly interpreted means the beginning of a new role for each of you rather than the ending of the old. You are about to assume adult status in a society that is threatened from many quarters. War, the threat of war, and internal scandals in our society and in governmental circles give us reason to view with alarm the immediate as well as the remote future. The history of the world is replete with examples of civilizations that came to a sorry end because the base instincts of the people who composed these civilizations went unchecked.

Of course, for each irresponsible, unethical member of our society one can point to literally hundreds of people who have lived nobly and have contributed positively to the welfare of human society. In the past our Republic has weathered many storms because our citizenry has shouldered the burdens of civic and moral responsibility in fields both foreign and domestic. It is incumbent on each of you to set a course that will lead to high moral and ethical standards, which will strengthen rather than weaken the society established through the dream of our Founding Fathers.

Walter J. Degnan

Principal

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANTS

MR. WILLIAM ZINGARO

He has, through his warm and easy personality, gained the respect and admiration of all Clintonites. His devotion to our school is an inspiration.

MR. FRANK BOYLAN

A gentleman, who through understanding of human nature, has woven closer relations between teacher and student. He is very much a part of the Clinton tradition.

HEADS OF DEPARTMENTS

1st Row: Mr. William Zingaro—Administrative Assistant
Mr. Frank Boylan—Administrative Assistant
Mrs. Ilse Finch—Chairman, Art Department
Mr. Walter Degnan—Principal
Mrs. Kathryn V. Flood—Chairman, Guidance Department
Dr. James Mandel—Chairman, Biology and General Science Departments

2nd Row: Dr. S. Bernhard—Chairman, Speech Department
Mr. Edwin H. Hastings—Chairman, Health Education Department
Mr. Ben Michelson—Chairman, Social Studies Department
Dr. Theodore Benjamin—Chairman, Physical Science Department
Mr. Alexander Brody—Chairman, Commercial Department
Mr. Kenneth Wright—Chairman, English Department
Mr. Rubin Pfeiffer—Chairman, Modern Languages Department

Sometimes known as the "Big Wheels," these men and women set the course for all school functions.

GUIDANCE COMMITTEE

Known as the "psychologists," the Guidance Department helps to adjust boys to our school life and advises them as to their future educational programs and vocations.

Through their efforts, many Clintonites are able to choose the college and occupation for which they are best suited.

1st Row: Miss Alice Danaher, Mrs. Kathryn V. Flood, and Mrs. Ina Primrose.
2nd Row: Mr. Elkan Snyder, Mr. William Lichtenstein, Mr. Aaron Horn, Mr. Morris Mandel, and Mr. Edward Wornow.

G.O. President
Leon Segal

Fellow Seniors:

Every senior class seems to be the most important known to history, and, so far, our generation is no exception. Before us, the world scene is not too pleasant. Between the maze of wars, reconversion, and resuscitation, the civilized world has met a new evil menace which endeavors to enslave humanity and subdue the individual in his quest for self-expression. Whether it be at institutions of higher learning, at our chosen vocations, or ultimately in the armed services to which the greater part of us are destined, it will be the obligated duty of this class to use the knowledge it possesses to defeat these insidious forces. Both the fundamental education of books and teachers as well as the practical knowledge of "how to get along" with others in clubs, teams, and other extra-school activities which the General Organization encompasses must be used by us to combat this foe. Only unity and cooperation can save the world from total destruction. We must do our part in promoting true peace if we wish to have happiness for ourselves, our families, and posterity.

Best wishes for the brightest possible future.

Yours truly,

LEON SEGAL

TO MY CLASSMATES

SENIOR PRESIDENT'S LETTER

After four years of studying together, we are about to leave Clinton and enter into a new and bigger phase of our lives. The future of every one of us remains up to the individual. Remember, you only get out of life what you put into it.

As we leave high school, we find that the paths before us are many and varied, but no matter where ours may lead, the memories of Clinton will linger on. Our teachers, the friends we made, and the incidents we experienced, will remain impressed on our minds.

In our going we will leave behind us a gap to be filled by generations to come, but Clinton will stand as an everlasting monument to those four wonderful years of high school.

Best of luck,

EDITORIAL

As I sit here and think back on my four years in Clinton, I remember many things. I can remember when I first entered this seemingly cold building—being ushered into the auditorium by a few over-anxious seniors; meeting Mr. Degnan who was also a "frosh"; and hearing the sales pitch of "Doc" Guernsey and Mr. Lou Katz on how important it was to support the G.O. Somehow, the building didn't seem quite so cold as when we had first entered. There was a certain pleasure in anticipating the coming term with its new friendships. As we progressed to the upper terms, the building grew friendlier, and the faces more familiar. It wasn't long before we all found ourselves participating in extra-curricular activities in the form of clubs and squads. I remember sweating it out during Regents Week and hearing that old rumor, "They are going to abolish Regents."

I remember the first week of my senior term and the excitement of setting up my new staff. I have never seen a more efficient group. The term flew by quickly, and as I sit here, thinking of all the fun I had and the disappointments I encountered, one thought keeps repeating itself in my mind: "In two weeks, all this will be behind me. All that will remain will be memories of four wonderful years spent under the guidance of the finest faculty in the city in the best high school in the country."

In closing, I would like to wish you the very best of luck and I hope that we will meet again very soon.

Sincerely,

Stan Rosenkrantz

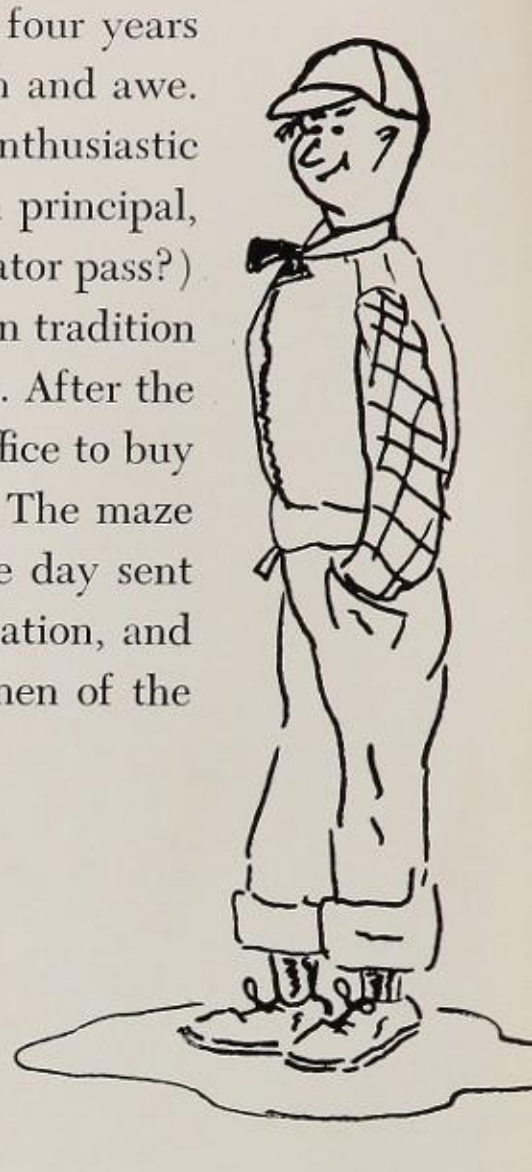
FOUR-YEAR STORY

It took us two weeks to find our way into Clinton and four years to find our way out. That first day was filled with confusion and awe. We were ushered into the auditorium by a few over-enthusiastic seniors. Our welcome was also a welcome for our freshman principal, Mr. Degnan . . . (Wonder if anyone tried to sell him an elevator pass?) . . . "Doc" Guernsey delivered his inspiring speech on Clinton tradition and we all resolved to see every game played by every team. After the sales pitch by Mr. Feibusch, we all marched into the G.O. office to buy our G.O. cards and get our free issue of the Clinton News. The maze of papers we had to fill out and the methodical rush of the day sent our heads spinning. Finally, home to start our summer vacation, and to return in the Fall as an integral part of Clinton—Freshmen of the Class of '52.



SEPTEMBER 1948 – JANUARY 1949

The first week found us completely lost in the long corridors. Gradually, things settled, and we began to learn about our school . . . Minor items like book reports and languages were something new and had us a little worried . . . The G.O. President was Irwin Roth . . . Clinton's football team was tied for the mythical Bronx-Manhattan championship . . . The soccer team also came up with a trophy. New experiences were quickly learned: Our first "Federal" and the next few periods in the medical room (we soon developed cast-iron stomachs). . . . The time we forgot our lock combination and went running around the building trying to find it . . . Our first encounter with the Service League . . . Our first midterms with all the cramming, bellyaching and sighs of relief that went with them . . . Our first G.O. election and how we pitied those poor candidates who tried to make speeches in our section. With the arrival of Regents Week, our first term came to an end.

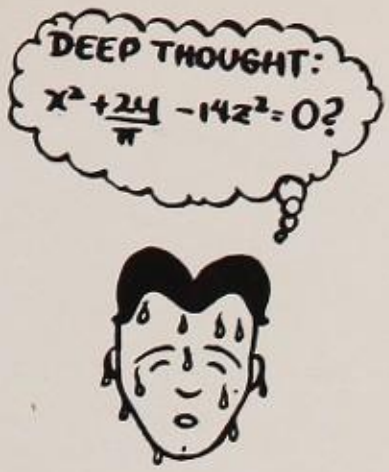
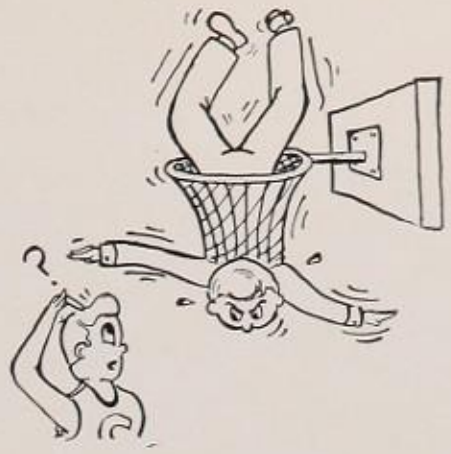
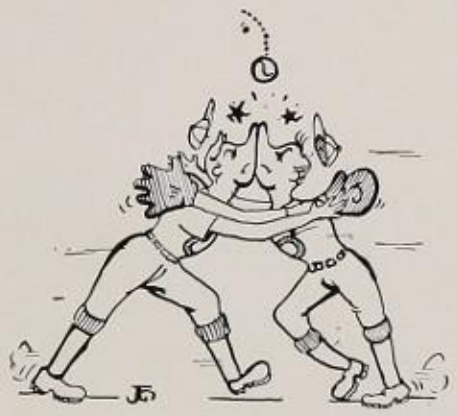
The Clinton Special





FEBRUARY 1949 – JUNE 1949

The start of the new term brought on a new headache, called algebra. G.O. President George Lowey announced the purchase of an electric scoreboard . . . Our basketball team was just edged by Curtis in the Garden playoffs . . . The newly-formed baseball team finished with a seven and two record, tying Monroe for second place . . . The tennis team beat the pros from Forest Hills to win the city championship . . . Frank Rack led the handball team to victory over Lincoln . . . Somebody mentioned something about Clinton Nite – said that Ozymandias, starring "Colonel" Archie Isaacs and directed by Mr. Belasco, and Title Go directed by Mr. Katz were big successes. Summer vacation rolled around again, and we welcomed those two months of relaxation.



SEPTEMBER 1949 – JANUARY 1950

Here we are, back in Clinton. We were now Sophs and had our Soph pins to prove it . . . Our Clinton spirit was high, and we were all set to watch the Clinton steamroller flatten all P.S.A.L. competition . . . Led by Bob Gabrecht, Irv Denker, Babe Morelli, and Joe Provenzano, the Clinton team smashed on to another Bronx-Manhattan Championship . . . Even the cheerleaders looked good with the addition of a few cute Walton girls . . . Jim Theoharides was a fine G.O. President . . . The Soccer Team won the Bronx-Manhattan Championship, only to lose to Grover Cleveland in the city semi-finals . . . Mr. Philipson sent out his call for junior newsmen. It sounded interesting, so you wrote a composition and hoped for the best. Of the thirty-six boys that applied, you had the distinction of being one of the thirty-five accepted. Teachers came knocking at our door, and we soon found ourselves on various clubs and squads, while others became the bounce-happy scrubs of Coach Hank Jacobsohn's J.V.

FEBRUARY 1950 – JUNE 1950

Ira Boyer became G.O. prexy . . . Bob Logan and Jim Donohue led the basketball team to another Garden playoff. In the first game, Bryant High School rolled over Clinton, scoring over one hundred points. Our only consolation was Bob Logan's thirty-four tallies. The baseball team went undefeated in a season of exhibition games. Everything was pointing to another spectacular year when the foundation was taken away and our pyramid of success crumbled. The teachers' cessation of extracurricular activities came upon us, and the building became a school without a soul. Vacation came, we handed in our books, and hoped that next term might restore Clinton to its former self.

SEPTEMBER 1950 – JANUARY 1951

With the end of vacation, we came back to Clinton as Juniors. All through the big building there was a feeling of emptiness. Both teacher and pupil felt the great lull. The football team couldn't get started. Without the leadership of Coach Jacobsohn, the boys didn't win a game. The steamroller had come to a halt. The basketball team played a number of exhibition games, but this was discontinued. With the help of the well-known "Classics Comics," we read the "Tale of Two Cities." The fabulous politician, Martin Lasky, took office as G.O. President. All through the halls went up the cry, "The time has come for reform!" . . . Many of us still wonder what was reformed.

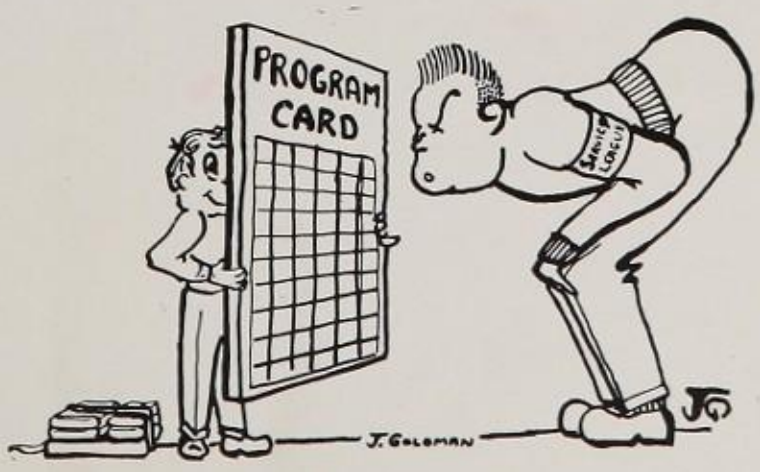
FEBRUARY 1951 – JUNE 1951

The new term brought no change. Rumors of the resumption of extracurricular activities added a little encouragement to our daily routine. Chemistry with Mr. Mayforth was a new and odorous experience. The baseball team's potential seemed great, and many were sorry to see it shelved. Lenny Silverstein was G.O. President. Intramurals continued, and the form team seemed to be very good. We struggled through "Macbeth," finally read a new book, and finished Miss Wilson's two-thousand-word thesis. Summer came again, and vacation time was ushered in with a great welcoming.

SEPTEMBER 1951 – JANUARY 1952

Three years had gone by and we now were a step away from the culmination of our four years at Clinton. Extracurricular activities had resumed. The school seemed to come alive as the clubs, teams, and squads began to reorganize. Likeable Mr. Ed Cobert left the school and the Clintonian gained a new faculty adviser, wonderful and jovial Colonel Archie (Pass the mint julep, son) Isaacs. The football team started slowly. The loss of many stars through injuries and P.S.A.L. rulings hurt the team badly. With the discovery of Freddy Hovasapian the tide turned, and Clinton once more walked off with the Bronx-Manhattan Championship . . . The soccer team ran up an impressive ten and zero record, only to lose the P.S.A.L. crown to Evander . . . Something new came to Clinton as the muscle men paraded across the stage in the "Mr. Clinton Contest." Donny Isaacson had them rolling in the aisles with the Classnite production of "Knaves Among the Slaves." Regents Week came fast and before we knew it, time was running out.



Then one day . . . a blast of trumpets . . . a roll of drums, and we were on the top. Seniors at last! The long trek was just about over. We rushed down to the Senior Office early that first day, and bought our combo tickets. Number 560 in a class of 500—Huh??? After that one, we called for a Washington investigation. Senior Prexy Harv Stoller let loose the senior hats, and those monstrous designs returned to Clinton. We watched the birdie as the photographer took our picture. When the proofs arrived, we looked, and wished we hadn't. Time passed quickly. We filled out applications for Cornell and Columbia just to satisfy our ego, knowing that City would probably be the place where we would spend the next four years. Events flew rapidly by—The fencing team came up with the City Championship. G.O. prexy Leon Segal presented the Gymkana. Combos, Clinton-nite, Class-nite and prom left our wallets anemic. We crammed and struggled through our last midterms and regents, and settled our book accounts with our teachers as they cheerfully bid us adieu. Then one day, they handed us a piece of parchment, showed us the door, and that was the end. Off we went, each on his own individual path; each to plot his own destiny. Yet, it seems as if only yesterday we were sitting in Civics and wondering what it was all about. The years will pass, and in the future, we may encounter success or failure, happiness or sorrow. But as we look back in time, and turn the pages of this book, we shall never forget those irreplaceable days—the four years spent in the Castle on the Parkway, and the memorable day we said "Good-bye."

Felton goes for yardage on an end run against Stuyvesant

Evander runner swamped by host of Clinton men

Despite injuries, ineligibility rules, and a tough schedule which included some of the top parochial schools, the 1951 Clinton Steamrollers finished the season with an impressive 4-4 record. What makes the record even more impressive is the fact that all four of our wins were shut-outs, and our PSAL mark was 4-1, which gave us another mythical Bronx-Manhattan Championship.

The Governors got off to a bad start when they had to play their three toughest games first, and thereby lost all three. Our first defeat was against All Hallows 19-0, followed by losses to the powerful Cardinal Hayes team 32-7 and the equally power-laden Mount St. Michael squad, 33-0. Things looked even blacker for our club after those three defeats as one of Clinton's star ends, Donald Isaacson, the only player to score a touchdown against Hayes this season, and Co-Captain and fullback Al Friedlander were lost to the team because of the ineligibility law.

Still the Red 'n' Black refused to give up and they finally started to move when they met teams of their caliber. Led by fullback Fred Hovasapian, who was just converted from tackle, the Governors swamped a favored Evander squad, 38-0. Thus regaining our feet, we proceeded to blank Stuyvesant in the traditional classic 18-0,

Over the goal for Wolosky as he intercepts an Evander pass and then dump Flushing 13-0. A little too cocky over three straight shut-outs, we dropped a hard-fought contest to a spirited Evander team, 13-7. But, once again coming back, we climaxed our season with a 26-0 romp over Monroe.

Review of '51

Big Fred Hovasapian, who made starting fullback on the J-A All-City team, and received the M.V.P. Award for the outstanding player in the Stuyvesant game, led Clinton in scoring with 38 points, while the sophomore sensation Buster Wolosky, lugged the leather for four touchdowns. Joe Shelton came in third in scoring honors with two T.D.'s and this is pretty good considering that Joe is a line backer who only plays on defense. Rounding out the rest of the offensive backfield are: Happy Felton, Bob Buckner, Herb Lipschitz, Bob Brown, Tony Bari, and Len Morris.

Our great defense, only 13 points scored on us in 5 PSAL games, centered around the tremendous linebacking of John "Duke" Wellington and Herb "Blackie" Lipschitz, who both played most of the season with bad ankles. Pass defense was also handled by these two, plus Shelton, Wolosky, and Cedric Wolfman who played stellar ball, especially in the last few games. These players, plus the big forward wall consisting of Slimowitz, Mischel, Picarillo, Chivily, Gouravich, Roumanis, Burnett, Considine, and Soffa, who were led by the hard-charging defensive ends, Fred Hovasapian and Fred Gerenser (a fellow who played terrific ball all season), make up the 1951 Bronx-Manhattan Champs.

Once again we give a lot of credit to Coach Hank Jacobsohn and his backfield coach, Joe Consagra. We wish them and next year's co-captains, John Chivily and George Roumanis, the best of luck in the 1952 season.

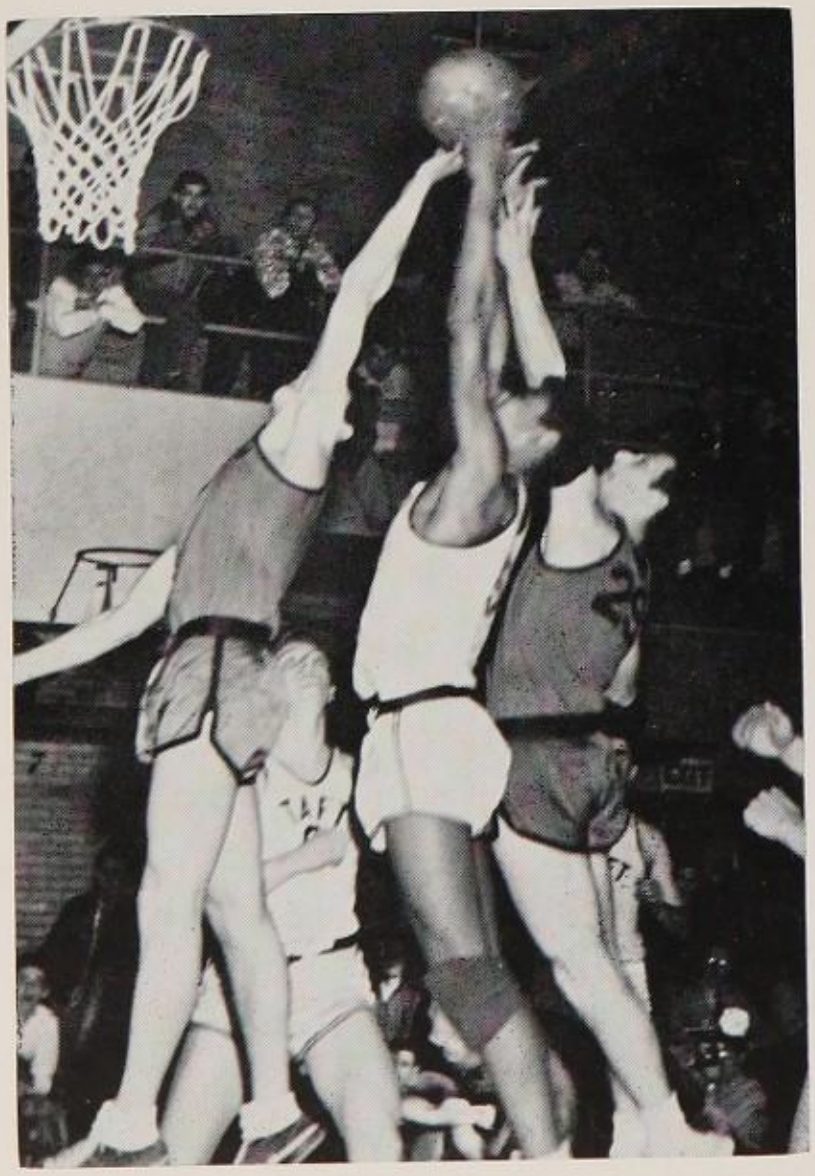
Al Simmons driving in for a layup and two points

Fuzzy Lieberman and Dave Raspler go up for rebound



With the slapping of leather against wooden floors and the shrill sound of the referee's whistle, the 1952 basketball season was under way. After a lapse of one year, the team looked forward to resuming its leadership in city competition.

The Governors looked very strong with their two aces Jim DeBerry and Dave Raspler while hard driving Al Simmons, center Charlie Tucker, and alternating guards Mel Cohen and Jud Gostin rounded out the starting five. On the bench were such capable substitutes as Steve Hill, Gus Summers, Morty Zaretsky, James Martin, and Al Levin. The Governors' loss of height (big man Charlie Tucker 6′3″) was compensated by speed, good ball handling, and deadly shooting.

The Aprilmen had a good start, beating Evander in a tight contest. Then tragedy struck, as Captain Jim DeBerry suffered an injury which kept him out half the season. Although Dave Raspler continued to average close to twenty points a game, the team could not get started, losing to Science, Taft, and Roosevelt, and beating only a weak Washington five. The second half of the season saw the return of number one man Jim DeBerry and an addition in the high jumping, hard fighting Fuzzy Lieberman. That was all the Governors needed. They won the remaining league games, beating Science by twelve and unbeatable Taft by twenty. This sudden splurge of victories sent Clinton into the playoffs of the City Championship.

The first playoff game against Columbus was a thriller till the last seconds. The score was close during the entire game. DeBerry, Raspler, and Al Simmons led the attack as Clinton took the lead in the closing minutes and held the slim margin until the final buzzer sounded. In their final game for the Bronx Championship, Clinton lost to a strong Taft quintet after Jim DeBerry, and Dave Raspler fouled out.

Although we placed second in the Bronx, the fame of this year's basketball team does not lie so much in their athletic powers, but in their "never say die" spirit. Such spirit is typical of Clinton and deserves the recognition and admiration of all Clinton students.

Coach Trulio gives instructions to ace pitcher Joey LaSpagnoletta

With the sweet, suckling odor of fresh peanuts, the sound of ashwood meeting horsehide, and the cry of "Play ball!" echoing across the sandlots of America, the baseball spirit was recaptured at the Governors' manor.

After cutting over 275 candidates for the squad, Coach William Trulio selected twenty-two athletes to represent the Red 'n' Black on the diamond this season. Comprised mostly of lower termers and a few experienced seniors, the Governors appeared to be headed for City honors.

Russo in an attempted bunt

By trouncing highly-regarded teams in their exhibition battles, the "Truliomen" were eager to open the PSAL season.

Fourth-termer Joey Laspagnoletta was given the chore of starting the season against Bronx Vocational, with "Athlete of the Year," Freddie Hovasapian as his battery mate. Joey pitched four innings of scoreless and hitless ball, with Eddie Picker hurling the last three innings, following in the same pattern. Clinton won that fray, 5-0, with the two southpaws collaborating for fifteen strikeouts.

This no-hitter paved the way for the next victory. The Red 'n' Black downed Taft, 4-0, with Cedric Wolfman and Joey Laspagnoletta pitching another hitless game.

Their slick fielding, smooth pitching, and powerful hitting indicated that the team was City Championship material. Supplying the power for the Red 'n' Black were clean-up hitter Eddie Lubitz, outfielder-pitcher Cedric Wolfman, and centerfielder Manny Isaacs.

All in all, the Clinton Baseball Team should add another trophy to the Governors' growing collection of conquests.

SENIORS' LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We the seniors of DeWitt Clinton High,
Now do bequeath our last good-bye,
With words of sadness, we now feature,
Our last will and testament to our modest teachers:

To Mr. Jacobsohn and the "Galloping Ghosts" of Clinton, we leave an all-P.S.A.L. schedule.

To Mr. Lou Katz, we leave 350 unsold basketball tickets.

To Mr. Mayforth, we leave a No. 6 Chemcraft Chemistry Set.

To Mr. Feibusch, we leave 500 incoming freshmen to boost next term's G.O. membership.

To Mr. Zingaro, we leave a new pen and pencil set to replace the set he used up writing admit notes.

To Mr. Boylan, we leave a blue character card for services rendered during his occupation in Clinton.

To Mr. Sherrin, we leave a broken radio.

To Mrs. Katz, we leave a telephone directory for her to memorize.

To Mr. Benjamin, we leave a pet scooter.

To Mr. April, we leave five seven-foot tall basketball players.

To Mr. Strassberg, we leave a recording of "When You're Smiling."

To Mr. Cole, we leave a copy of the Nautical Almanac, so that he can calculate his latitude.

To Mr. Cushing, we leave a belt.

And now at the end, we remember with joy,
When first we came as a freshman boy.
Up and past our sophomore term,
Rising with ease to live and learn.
Then, behold, a junior at last,
It certainly seemed we climbed mighty fast.
But when seniorhood came, and all knew our name,
We know whom we have to thank for our fame.
So to Clinton we leave memories, dear and true,
From the graduating class of fifty-two.

CREDITS

Mr. Archie E. Isaacs, our faculty adviser, for his guiding hand. Although he has been faculty adviser for only two terms, he is getting used to the editors' coming in late.
